James 4:1-10 (NKJV)

1 Where do wars and fights come from among you? Do they not come from your desires for pleasure that war in your members?

The background of the image is a composite of two scenes. The upper portion is a dark, deep blue night sky filled with numerous small, bright white stars. The lower portion shows a range of mountains, with the foreground peaks in dark green and blue, and the background ranges fading into a lighter, hazy blue. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

2 You lust and do not have. You murder and covet and cannot obtain. You fight and war. Yet you do not have because you do not ask.

³ You ask and do not receive,
because you ask amiss, that you may spend it on your pleasures.

4 Adulterers and adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God.

5 Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, "The Spirit who dwells in us yearns jealously"?

6 But He gives more grace.
Therefore He says: "God resists the proud, But gives grace to the humble."

7 Therefore submit to God.
Resist the devil and he will flee from you.

The background of the image is a composite of two scenes. The top half shows a dark, starry night sky with numerous small, bright stars scattered across a deep blue and black gradient. The bottom half shows a landscape of rolling mountains and hills, rendered in shades of teal, green, and blue, suggesting a misty or dawn/dusk atmosphere. The text is centered in the middle of the image, overlaid on the transition between the sky and the mountains.

8 Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners; and purify your hearts, you double-minded.

9 Lament and mourn and weep!
Let your laughter be turned to mourning and your joy to gloom.

10 Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He will lift you up.
